St. Paul, in the American Association, both as a player and umpire, presented Lee Fohl's Cleveland Indians with the inal game of the series here today, when the Nationals were defeated, 2 to 0.

McCormick is the younger of Ban B. Johnson's staff, and it was practically his poor work behind the bat that recorded the Indians a victory.

Jimmy Shaw, the Pittsburgh stogie, and Steve Coveleskie hooked up in a brilliant.

Jimmy Shaw, the Pittsburgh stogie, and Steve Coveleskie hooked up in a brilliant pitching duel in which the National hurier had every bit of the edge. This same McCormick appeared to be playing a good game for the Indians. Shaw buzzed them past three Redmen for eight innings, but it was McCormick's decision that put the Indians in the running. Jimmy allowed but two hits, and only one of these were what could be termed a clean blow, while only twenty-six bata clean blow, while only twenty-six bat-ters faced him in the eight innings in which he worked. Coveleskie held the Nationals to four safe blows which were well scattered over the route, but if it had not been for McCormick's poor judgment on both balls and strikes and the bases the Indians and the Nationals would no doubt have played in the extra McCormick's first bloomer came in the third inning when the Fohl crew regis-tered their first tally. Evans hit a sharp arounder to Crane who made a brilliant stop of the horsehide but his throw to Judge was too late and the Mississippi youngster was safe. O'Nell put Evans up to second base on an infield out from Foster to Judge.

It was at this point that McCormick started his victorious strike for the In-dians, as when Jimmy Shaw caught Evans napping, McCormick called a balk and allowed the redskin runner to take the far corner, with two and one on McCormick missed a grooved ball and the lanky Pole smashed one to right field which scored Evans, but he him-self was retired when Rice made a quick relay to Judge.

Shaw had been setting the tribe down in one, two, three order and the fourth, fifth and sixth he handed out the same delivery. Speaker started the seventh with a crash just out of playing reach of rane, and moved to second when the altimore phenom retired Roth on a conderful fielding play. Wamby then hit or Crane and the mighty Spoke attempted tally from the midway cushion.

Joe Leonard Is Put Off the Field for Expressing His Honest Opinion.

The missing of a grooved ball on Cove-leski really scored Evans as this would have completed the inning. This poor judgment of balls and strikes and Mo-gangsters would have been on his neck. Under the fire crabbing by the entire National team McCormick was hooted and yelled at by the Cleveland fans.

By JOHN A. DUGAN. Cleveland, May 12.—The decisions rendered by Umpire Larry McCormick easily won the battle for Cleveland to-day. McCormick was hooted by the Cleveland fans for his poor judgment on the play of Speaker at the plate while he was in a raz-chewing contest with the play of Speaker at the plate while he was in a rag-chewing contest with both the Nationals and Cleveland players during the entire game because of his poor judgment of balls and strikes. His calling of a balk on Shaw in the third inning was the turning point in the contest and if Shaw balked, McCormick has found a new idea of the rule as even the veteran Tommy Connolly admitted after the fray that Larry was a little off on his decision.

The missing of a grooved ball on Cove-

Cormick's calling of Speaker safe and this balk are in no way present to alibit the Nationals for the losing of the game as they were given five occasions under the airtight pitching of Coveleski to break up the affair but failed.

The umpiring by McCormick was the poorest that has been witnessed here this season and it is an easy bet if he had handed the home team the same line that a few of the West Side
